NOTES

Aborigines. Before an amendment to the Australian Constitution in 1967, it was provided by section 127 that 'in reckoning the numbers of the people of the Commonwealth, or of a State or other part of the Commonwealth, aboriginal natives shall not be counted'. This provision was deleted following a referendum held on 27 May 1967 which resulted in a large majority of votes in favour of its repeal. The enabling Act, the Constitution Alteration (Aborigines) 1967, came into operation on 10 August 1967.

The population estimates appearing in this publication for dates and periods from 30 June 1961 refer to total population, i.e. including Aborigines, except where otherwise indicated. Vital statistics which until 31 December 1966 excluded births, deaths and marriages of full-blood Aborigines, now include events among the total population. The term 'full-blood Aborigines', as used in relation to these statistics, is to be understood to mean persons with more than one-half Aboriginal blood.

A line drawn across a column of a table indicates a break in continuity in the series. Figures above the line exclude full-blood Aborigines; those below the line refer to total population, including Aborigines.

Rounding of Figures. Percentages appearing in tables in this publication have been rounded to the first (or second) place of decimals without making any adjustment which would be necessary to make the percentages so expressed add to precisely 100, or to the various sub-totals.

ESTIMATES OF POPULATION

EXPLANATORY NOTES

For dates other than those of the periodic census of population, estimates are based on records of births and deaths and of movements of population interstate and overseas. Estimates of the population of Australia and of each of the States and Territories are prepared by the Commonwealth Statistician as at 31 March, 30 June, 30 September and 31 December in each year. Because the available records of interstate movement are incomplete, these intercensal estimates as they apply to States and Territories are approximate and are revised when the results of the next succeeding census become known.

Until 1967, when a new method was introduced, the estimates were made by adding to the census figures the subsequent natural increase (the excess of births over deaths) and all net recorded overseas movement according to State of embarkation or disembarkation, as well as all net recorded movement by air, rail, sea and bus between States. The 1966 Census results confirmed that, despite very considerable efforts made to improve records of interstate movements, it is not possible to measure such movements with the desired accuracy. The new method, tested over the 1961-1966 intercensal period, appears to provide a more accurate result, and has therefore been adopted for intercensal revision of the population and will continue to be used until the Census of 1971.

In the new method the population in each State or Territory is estimated by adding to the population ascertained at the Census the natural increase and the recorded net gain from overseas migration for that State or Territory; gains and corresponding losses that result from movements between States and Territories are also taken into account in so far as they are recorded as transfers of residence under child endowment procedures or Commonwealth electoral procedures, supplemented by results of any special count or sample survey. Holiday, business or other similar short-term movements between States and Territories are omitted.

Population estimates for dates and periods between the Censuses of 30 June 1961 and 30 June 1966, in this publication, have been prepared using the new method and are adjusted in accordance with the final results of the 1966 Census.

Mean Population. As stated earlier, estimates of population are prepared as at the end of each quarter of the year. The mean population of a quarter might be taken to be the average, or arithmetic mean, of the populations at the beginning and the end of the quarter. If  $a$  represents the population at the beginning of a year and  $b$ ,  $c$ ,  $d$  and  $e$  the populations at the end of the first, second, third and fourth quarters respectively, these quarterly means would then be  $\frac{1}{2}(a + b)$  for the first quarter,  $\frac{1}{2}(b + c)$  for the second,  $\frac{1}{2}(c + d)$  for the third and  $\frac{1}{2}(d + e)$  for the fourth quarter. The mean population for the year might then be taken as the arithmetic mean of the four quarterly average populations, or which may be more simply expressed as  $\frac{1}{8}(a + 2b + 2c + 2d + e)$ . This method of deriving mean population had been in use in Western Australia prior to its general adoption by the 1903 Conference of Australian Statisticians. It was later superseded by the more precise measure which is now commonly used in Australian statistics. In order to establish uniformity with current practice, estimates of mean population for 1901 and later years have been revised, where necessary, by the application of this formula.

$$\frac{1}{4}\left\{\frac{1}{2}(a + b) + \frac{1}{2}(b + c) + \frac{1}{2}(c + d) + \frac{1}{2}(d + e)\right\}$$

$$\frac{1}{2}(a + 4b + 2c + 4d + e)$$

WESTERN AUSTRALIA	(d) 736,629	(d) 848,100	(d) 909,409	(d) 946,394	(d) 980,048

(a) Figures for 1961 exclude full-blood Aborigines. For 1966 and later years, Aborigines are included; see note Aborigines on page 2. (b) See Explanatory Notes on page 19. The names and designations used are those which were current at 30 June 1970. (c) Census figures. (d) Includes migratory population.

OVERSEAS MIGRATION*EXPLANATORY NOTES

The statistics of overseas arrivals and departures, as shown in this section, exclude passengers passing through Australia on board the same ship or on the same flight (variously called direct transit passengers or 'through' passengers), passengers on short pleasure cruises in the South-West Pacific commencing and finishing in Australia on ships not then engaged in regular voyages, and all air crew and ships' crew.

The classification into 'permanent', 'long-term' and 'short-term' movement is based on information provided by the traveller on arrival in or departure from Australia. These statements represent the traveller's intention at the time. Many travellers subsequently change their intentions and this must be borne in mind in interpreting the statistics.

Permanent movement consists of persons arriving with the stated intention of settling permanently in Australia, and Australian residents departing with the stated intention of residing permanently abroad. Settlers are persons who, on arrival in Australia, indicated that they came intending to settle. Former settlers are persons who, on departure from Australia, stated that they had come to Australia intending to settle, had stayed for a period of twelve months or more, and were now departing permanently.

Long-term movement consists of the arrival of visitors and the departure of residents with the stated intention of staying (in Australia or in a country abroad, respectively) for twelve months or more, and the departure of visitors and the return of Australian residents who have stayed (in Australia or in a country abroad, respectively) for twelve months or more.

Short-term movement consists of all other arrivals and departures, including those of Australian troops irrespective of period of stay.

VITAL STATISTICS

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Reference is made on page 2 to the repeal, with effect from 10 August 1967, of section 127 of the Australian Constitution. As a consequence of this repeal, all vital statistics, which previously excluded births, deaths and marriages of full-blood Aborigines, now include events among the total population. These new statistics were first compiled in respect of the March quarter of 1967. Accordingly, all figures shown in this Section for periods from 1 January 1967 include particulars of Aborigines, those for 1966 and earlier periods remaining on the old basis.

A line drawn across a column in the tables indicates a break in continuity in the series. Figures above the line exclude full-blood Aborigines; those below the line refer to events among the total population, including Aborigines.

The Registration System. Compulsory registration of births, deaths and marriages in Western Australia was originally provided for by legislation of the year 1841. The Statutes currently in force are the Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages Act, 1961-1965 (State) and the Marriage Act 1961-1966 (Commonwealth). For administrative purposes, the State is divided into twenty-seven Registry Districts, each having a District Registrar. Particulars of births, deaths and marriages reported to the District Registrars are sent to the Registrar-General at Perth, where a central registry office has been maintained since 1841.

Births are required to be registered within sixty days of the event, and must be notified by the father, the mother or the occupier of the premises where the birth took place. Stillbirths are registered both as a birth and a death.

Deaths are required to be registered within fourteen days. Notification must be given by the person who disposes of the body or by the occupier of the premises where the death occurred.

Marriages are celebrated according to the provisions of the Marriage Act 1961-1966 (Commonwealth) by ministers of religion registered under the Act, or by District Registrars. Ministers are required to lodge a marriage certificate with the District Registrar for registration within fourteen days of the celebration of a marriage.

The Statistical Record. Statistics of births, deaths and marriages are prepared from the registration documents. Data concerning births and deaths exclude particulars of stillbirths which are shown separately. The numbers of births, deaths and marriages registered are classified according to local government areas and Statistical Divisions. The figures, however, do not necessarily represent the number of such events which actually occurred in a particular local government area or Statistical Division during each year, since births are allocated to the usual place of residence of the mother, deaths to the usual place of residence of the deceased, and marriages to the usual place of residence of the bridegroom. The statistics are compiled according to date of registration and not date of occurrence.

Causes of Death. The causes of death are classified in accordance with the International Statistical Classification of Diseases, Injuries and Causes of Death (Eighth Revision, 1965), operative from 1 January 1968. Particulars relate to the underlying cause which the World Health Organization has defined as '(a) the disease or injury which initiated the train of morbid events leading directly to death, or (b) the circumstances of the accident or violence which produced the fatal injury'.

Local Government Areas. In Western Australia, local government areas are designated Cities, Towns or Shires. In this publication, Cities are marked (C) and Towns (T), all other local government areas being Shires.

Changes which occurred in 1969 and 1970 and which affect the interpretation of statistics in this publication are listed below.

Shire of Boyup Brook	....	....	Name changed from Shire of Upper Blackwood with effect from 30 May 1969.
Shire of Boulder	....	....	The district of the Town of Boulder was abolished with effect from 15 August 1969, and the outlying land which formerly comprised the Town of Boulder was annexed to the Shire of Kalgoorlie with effect from 18 August 1969. The name of the Shire of Kalgoorlie was changed to the Shire of Boulder with effect from 12 December 1969.
Shire of Bridgetown-Greenbushes	....	....	The Shire of Bridgetown was united with the Shire of Greenbushes to form one municipality named the Shire of Bridgetown-Greenbushes, with effect from 26 March 1970.
Shire of Donnybrook	....	....	The Shire of Donnybrook was united with the Shire of Balingup to form one municipality named the Shire of Donnybrook, with effect from 26 March 1970.
Shire of Swan	....	....	The Town of Midland was united with the Shire of Swan-Guildford to form one municipality named the Shire of Swan, with effect from 1 April 1970.

Figures exclude full-blood Aborigines.

DIVORCE*EXPLANATORY NOTES

This section contains statistics of dissolutions of marriage (commonly known as divorce), nullities of marriage and judicial separations.

The Commonwealth Matrimonial Causes Act 1959-1966 came into operation on 1 February 1961. The 1959 Act provided a uniform law throughout Australia with respect to divorce and other matrimonial causes, and superseded the Matrimonial Causes laws of the States and Territories except in so far as the transitional provisions of the Act kept them in force for the purpose of completing pending proceedings.

Under the Matrimonial Causes Act 1959-1966 a court may grant decrees of dissolution of marriage (commonly known as divorce), judicial separation, nullity of marriage and restitution of conjugal rights. Orders may be made for the custody and welfare of children, maintenance, the settlement of property, and damages for adultery.

The statistics in this section refer to petitions filed and final decrees granted for dissolution of marriage, nullity of marriage and judicial separation. Statistics of petitions filed relate only to the original petition in a suit, i.e. a cross-petition contained in an answer by the respondent is not taken as a separate petition, nor are the grounds cited in a cross-petition included.

POPULATION CENSUS

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Population censuses prior to the Commonwealth Census of 1911 were undertaken by the Governments of the several Australian Colonies. In the Western Australian Census it was the practice to exclude full-blood Aborigines from the tabulations. At the 1911 Census and later enumerations full-blood Aborigines were excluded from the tabulations in accordance with the requirements of section 127 of the Australian Constitution which provided that 'in reckoning the numbers of the people of the Commonwealth, or of a State or other part of the Commonwealth, aboriginal natives shall not be counted'. This provision was deleted following a referendum held on 27 May 1967 which resulted in a large majority of votes in favour of its repeal. The enabling Act, the Constitution Alteration (Aborigines) 1967, came into operation on 10 August 1967.

With regard to the original provision, Commonwealth legal authorities were of the opinion that persons of the half-blood were not 'aboriginal natives' within the meaning of the Constitution, and a fortiori that persons of less than half Aboriginal blood were not Aboriginal natives. Accordingly, only persons having Aboriginal blood to a degree greater than one-half have been excluded from the census tabulations.

CENSUS, 30 JUNE 1966

Delimitation of Urban Boundaries. For the purpose of presenting statistics obtained at the Census of 30 June 1966, new methods have been used in the delimitation of metropolitan areas and certain other urban centres. Briefly, these are as follows :

- (i) Around each capital city and each town with a population of 75,000 or more two boundaries have been drawn.

The outer boundary, which is fixed, circumscribes the area in close economic and social contact with the main city or town. These areas are designated Statistical Divisions (for State capital cities) or Statistical Districts (for Canberra and some other cities).

The inner boundary indicates the area within which, at the time of the census, there was a density of at least 500 persons per square mile. This density is determined for each Census collector's district (the smallest geographical area available). From census to census as urbanisation proceeds this inner boundary will move outwards to encompass peripheral development. Some specified areas of lower density (e.g. industrial areas) are classified as urban on other grounds.

- (ii) The principal urban centre within each Capital City Statistical Division has been designated the 'Metropolitan Area'.
- (iii) Population clusters of 1,000 or more persons having a minimum density of 500 persons per square mile have been designated 'Urban Centres'.

In determining the outer boundary of each Capital City Statistical Division the aim has been to delimit, for at least two or three decades, the region expected to be in close contact with the inner urban area, after making allowances for further urban development, including satellite towns, improvements in transport, and other factors.

A detailed statement on the concepts and criteria adopted in the delimitation of metropolitan areas and other urban centres is contained in Field Count Statement No. 4—Population : Principal Urban Centres of Australia published November 1966 by the Commonwealth Statistician, Canberra.

Tables 80 and 82 show the division of population into Urban and Rural on the basis of the new concepts. Metropolitan Urban refers to Metropolitan Areas as defined above. Other Urban represents the aggregation of the populations of Urban Centres outside the Metropolitan Areas, as in Table 80. Rural comprises the remaining portion of each State or Territory.

Statistical Divisions. The Statistical Divisions (and their component local government areas) referred to in this publication are shown on a map contained in Part V of the Statistical Register of Western Australia, the Abstract of Statistics of Local Government Areas and the Western Australian Year Book.

The Perth Statistical Division was constituted with effect from 1 January 1966 and comprises the area formed by the amalgamation of the former Metropolitan and Swan Statistical Divisions. Data relating to the Perth Statistical Division for periods prior to 1966 are compiled by reference to statistics concerning the former Metropolitan and Swan Statistical Divisions.

Local Government Areas. In Western Australia local government areas are designated Cities, Towns or Shires. In Table 79 Cities are marked (C), Towns (T); all other local government areas shown are Shires. The names and designations used in Table 79 are those which were current at 30 June 1966.

A number of boundary changes, many of them minor, occurred between the Censuses of 1961 and 1966. In some cases, however, a boundary change resulted in a change in the population of the local government area. In order to eliminate population changes due to boundary changes and to provide a comparison with the 1966 population figures, the 1961 local government area populations shown in Tables 79 and 80 have been adjusted to the boundaries used in 1966.

In addition to boundary changes, some new Shires were constituted, some municipalities were amalgamated, and there were some changes of name. These are listed below.

The Town of North Fremantle was annexed to the City of Fremantle with effect from 1 November 1961.

Mosman Park, formerly a Shire, was declared to be a Town with effect from 26 January 1962.

The Shire of Coorow was constituted, with effect from 1 July 1962, by severance of territory from the Shires of Carnamah, Dalwallinu and Perenjori.

Melville, formerly a Shire, was declared to be a Town with effect from 28 September 1962.

The Shire of Exmouth was constituted, with effect from 1 January 1964, by severance of territory from the Shire of Gascoyne-Minilya.

The Town of Carnarvon was amalgamated with the Shire of Gascoyne-Minilya to form the Shire of Carnarvon, with effect from 1 March 1965.

The Town of York was amalgamated with the Shire of York, with effect from 15 March 1965, to form one local government area named the Shire of York.

The name of the Shire of Geraldton-Greenough was changed to the Shire of Greenough, with effect from 19 March 1965.

The name of the Shire of Trayning-Kununoppin-Yelbeni was changed to the Shire of Trayning, with effect from 10 September 1965.

Census Collectors' Districts. For the purpose of taking a population census, each local government area is subdivided (as appropriate) into areas known as collectors' districts. For the 1966 Census operations, the 144 local government areas (i.e. Cities, Towns and Shires) in Western Australia at that date were divided into 1,394 collectors' districts, of which 727 were in the 27 municipalities comprising the Perth Statistical Division.

A collector's district is an area which varies in size according to population density and physical characteristics and constitutes a suitable area for one collector to cover in the period allowed for the distribution and collection of census schedules.

Statistics as presented in Tables 64 to 78 are also available for each census collector's district, on request. The data may be interpreted by reference to maps showing collectors' districts contained in each local government area. These maps show the names of boundary streets, etc. of each collector's district which is designated by code number for reference to the appropriate statistical table. Large-scale census maps of sectors of the Perth Statistical Division are available at a cost of $1 each ($7 per complete set of seven). Smaller maps (twenty-five to the set) can be supplied free of charge on request.

Work Force. The work force comprises all persons engaged in an industry, business, trade or service, and includes persons who were not working at the time of the census. It includes employers, the self-employed (i.e. persons working on own account but not employing others), employees on wage or salary, and unpaid helpers (other than those usually working in such activities for less than fifteen hours per week).

The 1966 Census work force statistics are not strictly comparable with those of earlier censuses. For a detailed explanation of the new approach adopted at the 1966 Census, the reader is referred to Census Bulletin No. 5.1 —Summary of Population: Western Australia, issued November 1967 by the Commonwealth Statistician, Canberra. The net effect of the new definition is to include approximately 8,100 additional persons in the Western Australian work force, a proportional increase of approximately 2.4 per cent.

Occupation. Occupation is defined as the nature of the work which a person performs, and implies personal performance. It may be based on the material treated, the process carried out or the type of service rendered by an individual worker. Thus the occupation of a person is the kind of work that he or she personally performs, as distinct from industry, which is defined as any single branch of productive activity, trade or service and is not concerned with the nature of personal performance.

The Classification of Occupations used in the tabulation of the 1966 Census data has been adapted from and closely adheres to the principles embodied in the International Standard Classification of Occupations issued by the International Labour Office, Geneva, 1958.

The Australian Classification of Occupations contains 11 Major Groups, 72 Minor Groups and 313 Occupation Categories. In accordance with the International Standard Classification, occupations have been grouped by the general similarity of the characteristics of the work they entail. The data appearing in Table 73 are restricted to the 11 Major Groups and the 72 Minor Groups. Complete descriptions of Major Groups, Minor Groups and Categories, together with a list of occupations included under each heading, are contained in the Classification and Classified List of Occupations—Revised : June 1966, published by the Commonwealth Statistician, Canberra.

Industry. For statistical purposes, industry may be defined as any single branch of productive activity, trade or service. It is concerned with the activities of persons, firms or businesses considered as a group producing the same commodity, performing the same process or providing the same service. All persons engaged in any such branch of economic activity are classified industrially as belonging to that particular branch irrespective of their personal occupation within the industry. Examples are : Mining, which includes, in addition to miners and prospectors, such persons as laboratory technicians, transport workers and office staff employed by mining companies ; Shipping, which covers staff members of shipping companies and agencies, as well as ships' crews ; professional activities such as Medicine, Law and Architecture which include not only qualified practitioners but also persons employed by them as, for example, receptionists, law clerks and draftsmen.

Classification according to industry at the 1966 Census has been made on the basis of the Classification and Classified List of Industries—Revised : June, 1966, published by the Commonwealth Statistician, Canberra. The classification divides the work force into 14 Major Groups which, in turn, are divided into 53 Sub-groups and 342 Industry Categories.

It should be noted that the particulars shown under Public Authority Activities (n.e.i.) are residual figures comprising those persons in the administrative sphere of general government, local government and foreign consular services who have not been classified elsewhere. They do not, therefore, represent the total numbers of persons engaged in or attached to all fields of government service, Commonwealth, State or Local. For example, employees of the Railways Commission have been assigned, in accordance with evidence contained in their census schedules, to Railway workshops in the sub-group Manufacture, Assembly and Repair of Ships, Vehicles, Parts and Accessories ; to Motor bus services in the sub-group Road Transport ; to Construction and maintenance of permanent way in the sub-group Construction Works and Maintenance (other than Buildings) or to Rail services under Rail and Air Transport. Further examples of this allocation of government workers to industries other than Public Authority Activities (n.e.i.) are provided by Departments such as Education, Public Works, Postmaster-General's, Repatriation, and local government authorities.

No. 80—Urban and Rural Populations: Censuses, 1961 and 1966

NOTE. For Metropolitan and other Urban Centres which are delineated by moving boundaries (see note Delimitation of Urban Boundaries on page 74), boundaries for 1961 have been redrawn according to the new criteria. The urban populations (partly estimated) within these boundaries are shown in this table for comparison with the 1966 population. The intercensal increase or decrease between 1961 and 1966 may therefore reflect population change within the original 1961 boundary; urban growth beyond the original boundary; or the merging of Other Urban areas with the Metropolitan Area.
